

PRESIDENT POLICIES OF HIS ADMINISTRATION

WILSON'S HEAD IN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS TODAY FORMAL-LY ANNOUNCED HIS IN-TENTION TO GO TO PARIS.

IN FAVOR OF SUFFRAGE

Wilson States That He Has Taken Over American Cable System on Expert Advice, Ready to Release Railroads,
Plans for Returned Soldiers.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Washington, Dec. 2.—In an address to Congress in joint session today, President Wilson formally announced his intention to go to Paris for the peace conference, saying the great governments have accepted the principles enunciated by him for peace and it is his paramount duty to be present.

The President said he will be in close touch by cable and wireless and that Congress will know all that he does on the side of the peace.

Referring to his announcement that the French and British governments had removed all cable restrictions upon the transmission of news to America, the President said he had taken over the American cable systems on expert advice so as to make a unified system available.

No definite program of reconstruction can be outlined now, Mr. Wilson said, but as soon as the armistice is signed, government control of business and industry will be released as far as possible. He expressed the hope that Congress would not object to conferring upon the war trade board or some other agency the right of fixing export priorities to assure shipment of food to starving people abroad.

Railroad Problems.
Much of the address was devoted to the railroad problem for which the President said he now had no solution to offer. He recommended that the railroads be placed under government control to permit a return to old conditions under private management without railroad strikes.

The President declared he stood ready to release the railroads from government control as soon as the factors of reconstruction could be worked out.

The President said he hoped to see a formal declaration of peace coming "by the time morning has come."

Cooperation of People.
He expressed the hope that people would have the co-operation of the United States in the peace conference and that they would be ready to accept the peace terms.

No Private Thought.
Declaring he had no "private thought or opinion" in going to Europe, the President added:

"It is now my duty to play my part in making good what they have done. I cannot hope to obtain."

Endorsed Plan.
As to taxation, the President announced the plan for raising six billion dollars in 1920 by levying a tax of 10 per cent on the income of the year 1919.

The new three percent naval building program, he said, it would be unwise to attempt to adjust the American program to a future world policy as yet undetermined.

Year Has Slipped.
The President said: "The year that has elapsed since I last stood before you to fulfill my constitutional duty to give the Congress from time to time information on the state of the Union has been so crowded with great events, great processes of change, that I cannot hope to give it an adequate picture of its characteristics or of the far-reaching changes which have been wrought in the life of our nation and the world."

He said he had witnessed these things as they have unfolded in the midst of them and that the people of this generation will be able to say that they mean or even what they have been. But some great and confusing facts are a part of the public business with which it is our duty to deal. To state them is to set the stage for the legislation that must grow out of them and which we have yet to shape and implement.

Monthly Average.
A year ago, the heat 145,819 dollars, since then we have received 1,560,513, an average of 162,542 dollars a month, the number in fact rising to 245,372 in July, 1918, and continuing to show a steady increase in August and September—in August 159,676, and in September 267,438.

All records of troops ever backed before, across three thousand miles of sea, followed by adequate equipment and supplies, and delivered safely through extraordinary difficulties and dangers which lacked of strange and infinitely difficult to guard against. In all this movement only 753 men were lost by any attack on the Oriskany Islands. I do not tell you what lay back of the great movement of men and material.

Activities More Complete.
It is not invidious to say that back of a supporting organization in all the industries of the country there is a productive activity in method and efficiency in results, more spirited and unanimous purpose and effort than any other great enterprise has ever known.

We are about to give peace not only for the nations which have suffered but for the world as well as for the nations which have suffered. It is international justice that we seek, not domestic safety merely.

PLOT TO RESTORE EMPEROR WILLIAM HAS BEEN DISCOVERED

London, Dec. 2.—A plot to restore Imperialism and secure the return of Emperor William has been discovered in Berlin, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Express.

According to the report, which was filed at Amsterdam on Friday, the chief men behind the plot were Field Marshal von Mackensen, General von Bohn and General Count von Armin. It is said that they instructed the Prussian officers' corps to carry on a pro-Emperor agitation beginning immediately after the demobiliza-tion of the army.

Large sums of money are said to have been placed at the disposal of the leaders by munition-makers. Many arrests have been made in Berlin and other cities, while the government has a long list of suspects who had planned to seize members of the present government.

No direct evidence of William Hohenzollern's connection in the plot has been found, it is said, but it is believed that the outline of the plot is clear. It is said that the chief guilt was recently laid on the German capital for the ostensible purpose of taking the wife of the former emperor to America.

Field Marshal von Bohn is said to have been in control of the financial arrangements. Field Marshal von Mackensen is reported to have attempted to induce Prince von Hindenburg to join but the latter refused, saying he intended to retire after the demobilization of the army.

The whole Prussian country it is said, is in sympathy with the plotters and it is said that Prince von Buelow and Dr. George Michael, the former Imperial Chancellor, are among the plotters. It was said to be a provisional government under Field Marshal von Mackensen or some other military leader and then Emperor Hohenzollern to return.

SERGEANT CUNNINGHAM RETURNS FROM CAMP

National Army to civil life. Sergeant last evening from Camp Humphreys, Virginia, where he has been attending an officers' training camp.

Sergeant Cunningham left this city with the second draft contingent on His military record is as follows: He was in the 1st Infantry Division, First Sergeant of a training company and soon after was ordered to a separate training camp.

Sergeant Cunningham participated in a machine gun test and was ranked third out of a field of 700 men.
He was then ordered to a separate training camp.

Officers training camp and would have received his commission the latter part of this month had the armistice not been signed.

S. A. T. C. TO DISBAND BETWEEN DEC. 2 AND 21

Madison, Wis., Dec. 2.—The demobilization of the Students Army Training Corps, which was ordered on Nov.
27, will be carried out today. The corps will be disbanded between Dec.
2 and 21, although the mustering out will be a slow process, because of physical examinations and other formalities of discharge. The corps will be entirely demobilized before Christmas.

Plans at the University of Wisconsin for the disbanding are not yet complete, but it is likely that the corps will be disbanded between Dec. 2 and 21. The corps was organized in September 1917, and has since that time been engaged in various courses of instruction.

At reserves, such as engineering, chemical, medical, etc., which have

21. The corps was organized in
time been engaged in various courses
of instruction.

Women's dormitories, which have been used as barracks, will be returned to the army. The corps will be disbanded between Dec. 2 and 21.

struction.

Returning Prisoners Complain of the Food in the German Camps

Washington, Dec. 2.—American prisoners returning from German prison camps complain of scanty food and bad housing conditions. General Pershing has informed the War Department.

The War Department today issued a statement based on a cable from General Pershing dated November 28, and sent in reply to an inquiry by the War Department.

"American prisoners released from German prison camps complain of poor and scanty food, and of bad housing conditions. Only a small percentage of those who are sick are hospitalized. The majority are suffering from slight colds and the prospect is that all will recover rapidly with proper food and housing."

There is no evidence of discrimination against the American prisoners. Among 7,000 prisoners of all nationalities who have been released, there is no indication of discrimination against the Americans.

"The majority of the American prisoners stated that the German soldiers also suffered from food privations."

HOUSING CAMPAIGN STARTS IN 10 DAYS

ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION OF IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIA-TION TO BE FILED THIS WEEK.

OFFICIALS TO MEET

Chamber of Commerce Hears Final Plans for Providing Homes for Workmen at Noon Luncheon.

The campaign for subscriptions to the improvement association which will carry on the housing project for this city will be started within ten days according to announcement made today noon at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Grand hotel. A charter has been prepared and articles of incorporation will be filed with the secretary of state.

The meeting will be held by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at which the mayor, councilmen and city engineers will be present at which discussion of the proposed plan will be held.

Manager Green of the Chamber of Commerce explained the purpose of the plan to provide comfortable homes for the workmen who will take jobs in the industrial plants, to assure the industries that the city was able to take care of them.

He explained that the plan calls for a development which will provide not only homes but also a clean and comfortable environment.

"One other purpose is to prevent the entrance of cheap labor from other cities to come in and sell cheap labor and leave the purchaser with property of little value for which they have to pay a dear price," said Mr. Green.

"At a recent meeting of housing experts in Boston it was pointed out that this or any other educational campaign for proper housing conditions. It was impressed upon the 500 delegates present that workmen and their babies should have the same comforts in relation to their economic condition as the families of the more wealthy."

"The home and city life of the workmen who are to come will play a big part in the efficiency of those workers. It is the duty of the Chamber of Commerce to take these workers into consideration and to make them contented and happy."

The construction of these homes will be carried on without cost to the city. The city will be asked to consider it as an investment. No salaries will be paid and not a cent of money will be realized by those who are currently in the city. Everything will go into the houses.

Jews Are Homeless As the Result of Riot in Vienna, Wednesday

Vienna, Dec. 2.—Hundreds are homeless at Lemberg as the result of pogroms against the Jews in that city.
It is reported that many people have been killed and many houses burned and wholesale looting has taken place.

The trouble is said to be extending westward to Jaroslaw and south to Przemysl, as well as to many towns in western and eastern Galicia.

Jewish reports say that the disorders were not attributable to Bolshevism, but were the outcome of the policy of the Polish government.

The principle of self-determination, according to President Wilson's program, is being observed in the case of the Poles in the outgrowth of the fact that Ukrainians in Poland wish to be free and under Ukrainian rule. In Lublin, a preparation of Polish inhabitants around the city the Ukrainians are in the majority. The people of Lemberg, with the exception of the Jews, want to unite with Poland.

STOUGHTON SAVED BY TELEPHONE OPERATOR

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Stoughton, Dec. 2.—Miss Bernice Mickelson, night telephone operator, saved the business section of Stoughton from destruction by her quick action when she discovered a blaze raging in the basement of the State Bank of Stoughton at 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Miss Mickelson, remaining at her switchboard until smoke drove her from the telephone exchange, spread the alarm. Citizens aided in fighting the blaze, which was extinguished by the Stoughton fire department.

The estimated loss of $25,000 is covered by insurance.

The great fire, which broke out in the bank building and spread rapidly to the adjoining property. For a time it was feared that the business section of Stoughton would be wiped out by the destruction of the bank building.

After the destruction of the telephone exchange, a long distance telephone was attached to the fire alarm station and resumed connections with Milwaukee, Madison, and other cities.

CONSERVATION WEEK THROUGHOUT NATION

Washington, Dec. 2.—The food administration's "conservation week for world relief" campaign goes into full swing today.

It swung today with the reading in all the churches of a message from food administrator Hoover which outlined the nation's opportunity for new victories in feeding the millions of people in Europe released from German domination.

Meeting of fraternal and other organizations, under the auspices of the food administration, began and will continue throughout the week. The need for the fulfillment of America's food pledge for this year of 2,000,000 tons of food is being emphasized. Every possible avenue of reaching the public will be announced, will be utilized.

First of The Returning Soldiers Arrived In New York Harbor Shortly After Seven Today

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
New York, Dec. 2.—The British steamship Mauretania, sister ship of the Lusitania, is in port today with the first large contingent of American troops from Europe.

The four thousand troops, who were in England, will be taken to Camp Mills on Long Island during the day. Demobilization will take place in the future.

Heavy storms delayed the giant transport's voyage so that she was unable to dock at noon yesterday, as she expected, and it was not until seven o'clock last night that the liner entered the narrows, too late to pass quarantine. She anchored for the night in Gravesend Bay in sight of the Statue of Liberty.

The steamer's belated arrival caused a change in the plans for welcoming the soldiers and many thousands who had crowded Grand Park today were disappointed.

The mayor's committee of welcome before going to camp.

CESSATION OF WAR WILL RESULT IN BIG EXPENSE REDUCTIONS

Washington, Dec. 2.—Cessation of war will result in a reduction of expenditures for the fiscal year 1920, starting next July 1, to $7,443,415, from the $24,690,000,000 appropriated for the current year, according to tentative estimates communicated today by Secretary Mc-Adoo, transmitting the reports of the various departments. The principal reduction was from the military estimate, which shows a saving of $1, 222,000,000 in 1920 as compared with the $12,274,000,000 appropriated for this year. Before the signing of the armistice, the military estimate had been $13,000,000,000, but it had been reduced to $11,800,000,000 for 1920.

The navy's estimate for 1920 was $2, 500,000,000 as compared with $1,501, 000,000 appropriated for the current year, an increase of a billion dollars despite the closing of the war. There is nothing to show what the navy estimate would have been had the war continued.

Including $574,237,000 estimated for fortifications, the total estimated military estimate for 1920 is $2, 407,000,000. A striking figure in the army estimates is the $144,943,000 for air service production. The appropriations for the army and navy for 1920 are $100,000,000. It is evident that in reducing war estimates the war department is proposing not to lose all that has been gained in aircraft development since the war began, but to continue construction and manufacture on a fairly large scale.

CONGRESS CONVENES FOR SHORT SESSION

Washington, Dec. 2.—Problems of peace and reconstructions promise to occupy fully the third and last session of Congress this year, which opened today at noon, to continue until it ends by limitation on March 3.
After a ten-day holiday following the long second war session, most of the work of both Senate and House was on hand today to start the work of the winter.

Framing of the legislative program has been delayed in large measure by the address of President Wilson, an hour after the opening. This program must cover an extraordinary congestion of business, including the many annual appropriation measures, revenue legislation, investigations and miscellaneous bills.

The usual formalities of the opening of Congress were hurried through because of the fact that President Wilson, about to sail for Europe, desired to deliver his address on the first instead of the second day of the session.

After calls of Senate and house rolls to disclose presence of quorums were made, the respective branches of Congress then began their work.

Long before the noon convening hour, spectators thronged the capitol steps, and particularly to the House gallery for seats at the joint session, at one o'clock to hear President Wilson.

WHO'S WHO in the Day's News

VICE ADMIRAL WM. S. SIMS.
Admiral William Sowden Sims, commander of the German war craft to the British, took command of the American naval forces in transatlantic waters when the United States entered the war. His work in conquering U-boats and his willingness to co-operate in every hazardous undertaking of the British fleet won him the friendship of the English people. America's share in the complicated and dangerous work of protecting the sea lanes on the other side, of keeping the German fleet bottled up and of patrolling the coasts was carried out under his personal direction. Vice Admiral Sims is sixty years old. He was born in Port Hope, Ontario, on October 15, 1858. He was appointed to the Naval Academy from Philadelphia in 1878, and was graduated in June, 1880. He received the rank of lieutenant in 1893 and was promoted to the rank of captain by President Roosevelt in 1902. He had previously seen service in China and was naval attaché at the American embassy in Paris during the Spanish-American war. He was on the staff of the naval war college from May 25, 1911, to June 4, 1912, when he was given command of the torpedo boat flotilla of the Atlantic fleet. President Wilson made him a rear admiral in August, 1915.

Edgerton News

Edgerton, Dec. 2.—Fire early Sunday morning destroyed the State bank at Stoughton, together with the post office and a candy kitchen located next to the postoffice was damaged and the stock was a total loss from smoke and water. The telephone office located on the upper floor was totally destroyed and the city is without telephone service. Temporary phones were installed on telephone posts to accommodate long distance service. The fire was discovered early in the morning and before the department arrived it was evident that considerable damage would be done before the fire could be extinguished. It is thought that the fire originated in the coal bin under the postoffice. Two cars of soft coal had been piled in the bin and undoubtedly had heated, causing spontaneous combustion. The loss will amount into the thousands of dollars but is practically covered by insurance.

past five months by Prof. L. J. Cole at the University of Wisconsin, under the direction of the war department, has just been completed. The signal corps sergeant, who assisted Professor Cole, last week took the government pigeons to Ft. Monroe.

About 150 birds were trained at the university during the summer and sent to France for further training near the front lines. The training work carried on at the university was largely of an experimental nature to discover short cuts and new methods in training birds for the army, and the results have been reported to the war department. Their training at Madison involved flights from half a mile to 13 miles, under various conditions, at various times of day or night, and always under careful timing and recording to ascertain the success of the various methods undertaken.

FIVE FRIDAYS By FRANK R. ADAMS Copyright by Frank A. Munsey Company.

CHAPTER XI. "I Loved Her So."

"W" HY," I explained innocently to Claire, "when you get on the mainland you get a marriage license, and unless you prefer a church wedding I would suggest that you hunt up the justice of the peace and get it over with. I don't believe in long engagements myself." I was perfectly willing to tease this pedantic braggart. We owed him something for that fast article anyway.

"But I don't want to marry any one," he cried. "I must not sacrifice my career to romance and sentiment. I belong to the world. There must be a way out."

"If you don't want to marry Miss Dunmore, why did you arouse the spark of passion in her innocent breast?" I demanded.

"I don't know." He writhed in mental anguish. "I didn't dream that I was even being agreeable to her."

"Some women are more attracted by indifference than by attention," I comforted. "Others are fascinated by downright brute violence."

"I suppose there must be some charm about me that I did not dream of," he mused modestly. "Don't you think she could forget me if she did not see me for a long while?"

"I'm afraid," I sighed, "that, having once met you, no girl could ever forget you."

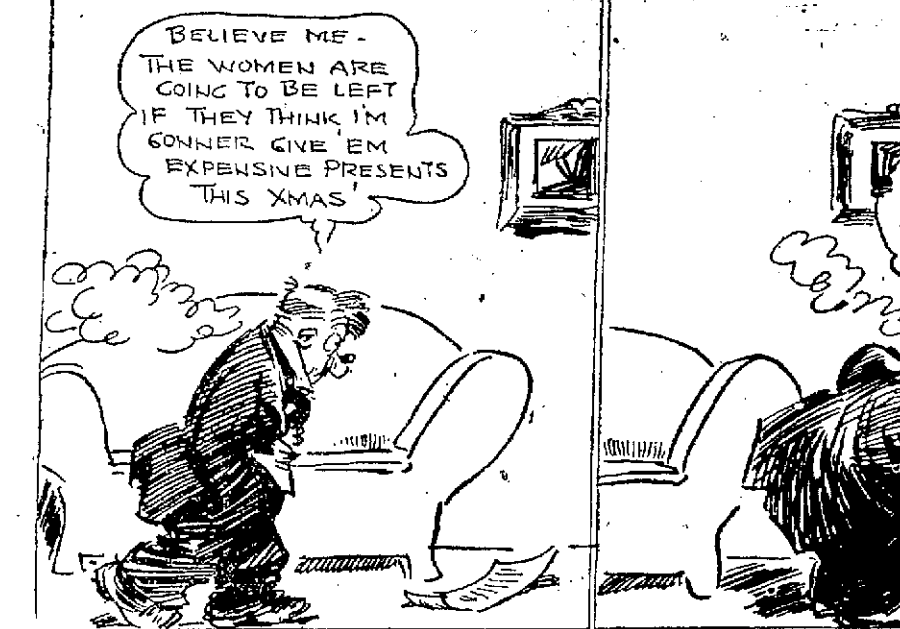

"Come now," he said sharply, trying to detect a smile on my face; "it isn't as bad as that. If I could get away and write her a letter saying that I had been taken down with some illness and could not be a doting man hold her to her promise, that would solve the difficulty."

"Rather a nifty idea," I commented, "but as a novelist you must know that the heroine always flies to the bedside of the stricken hero and nurses him back to life. There is no use. Miss Dunmore would not allow you to die."

"No, I suppose not," he abandoned this scheme reluctantly. Another thought brightened him. "The getting away part of it is all right. If I did that I could get put in jail or something like that where she couldn't possibly see me. While I was there I could write an article on prison reforms."

I heartily endorsed this scheme. The idea of seeing him in prison appealed to me personally. The colossal blindness of a conceited fathead like that, trying to get away from a charming, sweet young girl like Vida alienated him from human consideration.

He mused a moment. "I'll do it," he exclaimed. "If I don't show up, mum's the word."

"You can't get away," I reminded him. "There's no boat."

"I forgot to tell you that I am the champion swimmer of the Brooklyn Athletic club. I think I saw some bathing suits hanging up in the shed. With one of those on it will be child's play to me."

Strangely cheered, he let himself out the back way and left me to the silence of my clams.

I left the clams to their own devices for awhile and went back to the living room. Vida was there idly taking impressions from my seal ring on some soft kneaded rubber that lay on Lucille's desk. Lucille herself was not in sight. The captain and the best cook who ever ran a marine engine were sunk deep in the gloom which surrounds the nonreading man when cut off from his kind and his employment.

"Well," said Vida when I stood over her like an accusing judge, "what have I done now? Shouldn't I play with this rubber this way?"

"You know what you're doing," I said sternly. "You trapped Lipton S. Clair into proposing to you."

"There's nothing wrong about that," Vida protested. "How do you suppose any man ever proposes? You have to trap them. Were you under the impression that adult males went around looking for a chance to pay for some one else's board and military and hosiery and all that sort of thing? No, sir; the masculine mind is very wary. That's why we women have to be so much brighter than the men. It's a case of self preservation."

"He's afraid you mean it. He's going to try to swim to the mainland in order to get away."

"What? Swim to the mainland?" "Yes. He's a woman hater."

"Good heavens! He must not do that," Vida was genuinely concerned. "You might tell him that you are engaged to some one else. That might reassure him."

"I will," Vida got up determinedly and went to the door. "Which way did he go?"

"Right down to the shore, I think," I said. "He seemed a trifle dazed, though, and might have wandered."

"Funny thing," interjected Captain Perkins, "the way a fellow will wander sometimes. My brother, he used to walk in his sleep. I was told to tell you where the zebra bit him that time."

"Yes," said Vida eagerly, "tell us where the zebra bit him."

"You'll have to hurry to catch him," I interrupted. "or it will be too late." The telephone bell rang.

"Hello. This is Blaney. Is Clair there?"

"No, he's not here now."

"Then let me speak to Miss Dunmore."

"She isn't here either," I explained. "Oh, they're out walking together again. I suppose," said my namesake sarcastically.

"No, not walking," I said; "swimming."

"What? At this time of night?" he yelled. "No, both of them? Vida can't swim."

"Maybe he is teaching her how," I suggested. "I didn't know of any reason why I should cause his mind anyway. A little jealousy would be good for him."

"Oh," he took the blow like a man. Then I heard him say faintly, "Good-by," and I hung up the receiver.

Lucille confronted me when I turned around. "Do you know where Tootles is?"

"No, I don't know where she is," I replied, with strict adherence to the truth. "Isn't she here?" I added gullibly.

"No, and I'm dreadfully worried. There are so many strange people in the house that some one may have let her out, not knowing how careful we are with her. She might get lost and starved or get her feet wet and have pneumonia, or a hawk might carry her off."

At this moment the unspeakable Bopp entered. He made a great show of weariness, dragging his feet as if they were too heavy to lift.

"Have you seen her?" demanded Lucille.

"No," Bopp said wearily. "I've tramped all over the island again and again. There's no ratline, no gully, no bush that I haven't investigated. She must have left the island."

"She can't swim!" moaned Lucille. "Her little legs are too short, and her fur would get in her eyes."

"What?" he yelled. "Fur get in her eyes?"

"Tootles is lost," I threw in by way of explanation.

"Tootles?" said Bopp, bewildered. "I've been looking for Mrs. Green."

"Oh, she's been found," Lucille explained.

"When?"

"Oh, hours and hours ago. She tele-

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Janesville Daily Gazette, Dec. 2, 1878.—The members of Washington Engine company No. 1 have decided to get new clothes, the same as those worn by the Chicago firemen, consisting of blue sack coats, vests and pants, and a black hat. Messrs. Baumann, Dyer and Brooks have appointed a committee to get samples and prices.

The little son of John McCulloch, foreman of the Gazette job room, is quite dangerously ill with congestion of the lungs. The little sufferer is receiving the most tender care and treatment, but still his recovery is a matter of doubt, although the symptoms are all a little better today.

The Weekly Mail of Toronto speaks near anything:

"Not yet," Jim replied. "Why don't you try singing through a comb?"

"I meant did you hear Tootles bark?"

"No, ma'am."

"Then she's dead," Lucille nearly broke down. She looked around for a bosom on which to weep, but scorned both Bopp's and mine. "I loved her so."

There was a whispered consultation between Captain Perkins and Jim, and Jim tiptoed downstairs mysteriously.

Dinner Stories

It was nearly noon when the irate traveling man found the night clerk of the little hotel in a North Carolina town.

"I told you to call me for the seven o'clock train. Now I have to lose twenty-four hours' time. Why didn't you call me?"

"I couldn't very well," explained the clerk, cheerfully; "I just got up myself."

As everybody knows, Camp Devens is located at Ayer, Mass. A little girl was taken by her father to visit the camp, and was much impressed with what she saw there. But on the way home she suddenly asked, "Why, where is the war, in France or in Camp Devens?"

"Why, in France, of course, my dear," was the reply. "Why?"

"Then if it's over there, why do we slug about bombs bursting in Ayer?"

"That is Elmer J. Pettifog. He is a member of the famous law firm of Struts, Fowler, Hooks, Skinner, Bray, Pyffler & Snyder," said the introducer.

"But the name does not appear in the firm title."

"No, but they have a perfectly equitable arrangement; he does the work and the rest of them take the money."

While in a certain government office recently Sir Evan Jones, the British transport board chairman, overheard the following dialogue between two fair typewriter tappers:

"Isn't it terrible the way we have to work these days?"

"Father, why I typed so many letters yesterday that last night I finished my prayers with 'Yours truly.'"

Catarrh is a Real Enemy and Requires Vigorous Treatment

Do Not Neglect It.

When you use medicated sprays, atomizers and douches for your Catarrh, you may succeed in unstopping the choked-up air passages for the time being, but this annoying condition returns, and you have to do the same thing over and over again.

Catarrh has never yet been cured by these local applications. Have you ever experienced any real benefit from such treatment?

Throw these makeshift remedies to the winds, and get on the right treatment. Go to your drug store today, get a bottle of S. S. S., and commence a treatment that has been praised by sufferers for nearly half a century.

S. S. S. gets right at the source of Catarrh, and forces from the blood the germs which cause the disease. You can obtain special medical advice regarding your own case with charge by writing to Medical Director, 22 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Thought Man Was Crazy "I have suffered from stomach and liver trouble for years; the last two years people have been calling me crazy. The doctors could not do anything for me. The awful bloating of gas seemed to press against my brain and I could not think clearly. Three months ago a friend advised taking May's Wonderful Remedy and it has worked wonders in my case. All my bloating and suffering is gone and I feel as though newly born." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. One dose will convince of money refunded. J. P. Baker, Druggist.

BAD BREATH Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects. All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. P. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound, mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

order that the sincere desire of our government to contribute without selfish purpose of any kind to settlements that will be of common benefit to all the nations concerned may more fully manifest. The peace settlements which are now to be entered upon are of transcendent importance both to us and to the rest of the world and I know of no business or interest which should take precedence of them. The gallant men of our armed forces on land and sea have consciously fought for the ideals which they knew to be ...the substance of their own thought and purpose, as the associated governments have accepted them; I owe it to them to see to it, so far as in me lies, that no false or mistaken interpretation is put upon them, and no impossible efforts omitted to realize them. It is now my duty to say that I have been making good what I have offered their life's blood to obtain. I now think of no evil to service which would transcend this.

Cable Supervision

I shall be in close touch with you and with affairs on this side of the water and you will know all that I do. At my request, the French and English governments have voluntarily received the censorship of cable news which until within a fortnight they had maintained and there is now no censorship whatever exercised at this end except upon attempted trade communications with enemy countries. It has been necessary to keep an open fire constantly available between London and the payment of staffs and another between France and the department of war. In order that this might be done with the least possible interference with the other uses of the cables. I have temporarily taken over the control of both cables in order that they may be used as a single system. I did so at the advice of the most experienced cable officials and I think that the results will justify my hope that the few of the next few months may pass with the utmost freedom and with the least possible delay from each side of the sea to the other.

Asks Support.

May I not hope, gentlemen of the gress that in the delicate tasks I shall have to perform on the other side of the seas, I shall be able to do so with the greatest exactness and faithfully to interpret the principles and purposes of the country we serve. I may have the encouragement and the added strength of your united support. I realize the magnitude and difficulty of the duty I am undertaking; I am poignantly aware of its grave responsibilities. I am the servant of the nation. I can have no private thought or purpose of my own when performing my errands. I go to the best that is in me to the common settlements which I must now is in arriving at in conference with the other working heads of the associated governments. I shall count on your friendly countenance and encouragement. I shall not be inassessable. The cables and the wireless will render me available for any countenance and encouragement desired, and I shall be happy in the thought that I am constantly in touch with the weighty matters of domestic policy with which we shall have to deal, shall make my absence as brief as possible and shall hope to return with a happy assurance that it has been able to transmute into action the great ideals for which America has given.
